

YOUNG M'FARLAND SHOT BY 'SHINERS

Son of Veteran Raider and a Deputy, Are Ambushed in Larue—May Die

Hodgenville, Ky., Aug. 17.—O. H. McFarland and Sam Ray, shot by a band of men, apparently angered because McFarland had just previously captured an illicit still, are still alive, first reports from their bed sides said today. Physicians announced both had a chance to recover.

Meanwhile warrants were issued for a dozen men, who are said to have fired the volley from the roadside as McFarland sped by in a taxicab of which Ray was the chauffeur. McFarland, who is a federal prohibition agent, with Sheriff W. T. Hornback and G. T. Purvis, a farmer, were returning from the eastern end of Larue county, where a 50 gallon still was unearthed in the Concord church neighborhood. They passed a dozen men, all armed, on the roadside. A few seconds after the machine sped by, a volley was fired, wounding McFarland and Ray. Hornback and Purvis were unhurt.

An Earlier Story

Hodgenville, Ky., Aug. 17.—Ambushed by eight men with army rifles who opened fire on his raiding party, O. H. McFarland, of Louisville, United States prohibition enforcement officer, for western Kentucky, was shot through the abdomen and Hugh Ray, a deputy acting as his chauffeur, was shot through the head late today on the line between Greene and Larue counties. Both men are seriously, if not fatally, wounded.

McFarland, in the company of Sheriff W. T. Hornback, of Larue county, and George Turbis, his deputy, was returning from a raid on a still just across the Greene county line, when they passed a party of eight men armed with rifles at the Corinth church, 10 miles from here. At a distance of 100 yards the men opened fire on the federal agents' auto, one of the shots striking McFarland and the other Ray. Sheriff Hornback and Turbis who escaped injury, say that they recognized several of the men and will ask the cooperation of the Greene county officials to effect their arrest.

Speeding their automobile, McFarland was taken to the hospital at Hodgenville, while Ray was taken to a farm home, as the severity of his wound would not permit the 10-mile trip here. Ray is the son of H. S. Ray, United States storekeeper-gauger at Hodgenville, and a veteran of the World War.

The still which the federal party raided had been abandoned shortly before the arrival of the officers and no arrests were made. Feeling ran high over the attack and posess from both Larue and Greene counties were being organized last night to aid Sheriff Hornback in tracking the men.

McFarland is a son of U. G. McFarland, veteran revenue officer, and at present the head of raiding operations in the state of Kentucky. He is 27 years old and has been a member of the prohibition department since December 1, 1920.

Posess in charge of the sheriff are searching the hills near the Green and Larue county line today for the men who shot McFarland and Hugh Ray.

Snake Found Climbing Elevator At Postoffice

Little Dick Panther, Joe's grandson, almost put his hands on a snake in the Federal building Wednesday morning.

The reptile was ascending the elevator shaft, twining itself sinuously in and out of the iron caging.

The little boy almost touched the serpent, near the second story, as the stairs on which the child was playing, are very close to the elevator shaft.

Postoffice attaches hurried to the scene. They were amazed at the sight, and stood and watched the snake climb from the second story almost to the third floor of the building.

Then J. M. Walker dispatched the reptile and the body was found to measure almost four feet. It is believed to be of the cow sucker variety.

No one can hazard a solution of how the snake got into the building and half way up the elevator shaft unobserved.

CATCH ROBBERS OF COUNTRY STORE

Ed Richardson, of near Panola, was in town Wednesday and reported the robbery of J. W. Richardson's store, just across the Estill county line, near Needmore. A man named Owen Hensley saw a number of young men near a window and when they saw him they ran into a corn field. He informed Mr. Richardson and a posse was formed which found John Hohen-son and John Freeman hiding under a cliff. Mr. Richardson says the posse composed of himself, I. C. Cornett and George Shepherd recovered a large quantity of the goods and then went before a magistrate and swore out a warrant and had the men arrested and placed in jail at Irvine on a grand larceny and housebreaking charge.

Women In Homes and Society

Countless women devote their whole lives to their homes, while others are in the business world, or find happiness only in society. Whether you are a home woman, a business woman, or a society woman, you know how hard it is to "drag along" day after day, suffering agonies, caused by some female derangement that has developed from overtaxing your strength. The natural restorative for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for nearly half a century has been considered a standard remedy for woman's ills.

HOME PROTECTED AGAINST SEARCH

Unless Sale of Liquors Is Suspected and Solons Say "Home Brewers" Are Safe

Washington, Aug. 17.—Any householder can have his home brew, under interpretations placed upon an amendment to the Willis-Campbell beer bill approved Tuesday, by the House.

The amendment, adopted as a substitute for a Senate provision, would require federal agents to have warrants before entering homes in search of a home "unless there is reason to believe such dwelling is used as a place in which liquor is manufactured for sale, or sold."

Representative Wm. J. Fields, democrat, of Kentucky, declaring the House amendment would virtually sanction "home brew," provided it was not made to be sold, attempted to have the words "for sale" stricken out, but his motion was rejected, 96 to 54.

Representative Andrew Volstead, republican, of Minnesota, author of the original prohibition act, favored the House substitute as adopted. He declared later it would not change his policy of the prohibition enforcement bureau in reference to home brewing. No attempt of late has been made on orders from Washington, he said, to prohibit the home manufacturer of patent beverages for personal use.

"The section we put in the bill provides that the law is to be enforced as we intended when we passed the prohibition act," said Mr. Volstead. "While it expressly stipulates that no homes are to be searched without warrant, and then only of the liquor made is being sold, federal officers can get evidence in other ways as to whether the law is being violated."

"The section of the original act prohibiting the manufacture of liquor with alcoholic content of more than one-half of one per cent is still in force."

Search of homes without warrants, Mr. Volstead said, usually has been conducted under the revenue act which authorized such action under some circumstances.

Pleading for a tight ban on home brew, Mr. Fields declared that "if you say a man can rig up a distillery in his home, you kill the Volstead act."

ROCK ASPHALT MAY BE PUT DOWN

Kentucky's Own Product May Be Used For Reconstructing Lexington Pike

The people of Madison county are showing considerable interest in the Richmond-Lexington pike which will be reconstructed and hard surfaced this year and next. The contract will be let the State Highway Department at Frankfort on August 23rd.

It is the general opinion that this road will be surfaced with Kentucky rock asphalt, as this type of pavement has been thoroughly tried out in Kentucky and given highest satisfaction. The best known Kentucky rock asphalt road in this vicinity is a section of the Midland Trail just west of Lexington. This was formerly an old macadam road and early in 1917 it was surfaced with Kentucky rock asphalt. Today this road is in perfect condition, in spite of the fact that it carries about fifteen million pounds of tobacco in steel tired wagons each year. No money has been spent for maintenance of the rock asphalt surface.

Another famous Kentucky rock asphalt highway is Eighteenth Street road, or Dixie Highway, leading south from Louisville to Camp Knox. This road was built in 1915-16. During the war it carried about four thousand heavily loaded army trucks a day. This highway is still the show road of Jefferson county and has attracted the attention of engineers throughout the country because of its remarkable endurance under army traffic.

Kentucky rock asphalt is strictly a Kentucky product, and it is being produced by Kentucky men and Kentucky capital. It comes from Edmonson county where hundreds of acres of natural asphalt rock are found. The rock is quarried, crushed and pulverized. It is then ready to spread on the road and when rolled gives a smooth surface, a surface equal in every respect to the finest asphalt streets in cities.

Kentucky rock asphalt roads are not slippery like many other hard surfaces. Kentucky rock asphalt is being used in steep grades in preference to other types. The Germantown Hill road near Dayton, Ohio, was paved with Kentucky rock asphalt in 1919. Although this is a seven per cent grade, a farmer living along the road recently stated he had not seen a horse slip or an automobile skid since the road was paved. The main drive in the cemetery at Frankfort is paved with this material. In many places this grade is from nine to ten per cent.

Kentucky rock asphalt makes a smooth, noiseless and resilient road. There is no dust nor glare. The material seemingly never loses its life and does not crack or roll under the heaviest traffic.

Most of the best roads in Kentucky are paved with Kentucky rock asphalt and several other important highways are under construction or under contract. Sections of the Jackson and Dixie Highways in Tennessee also are being paved with this natural asphalt. Almost one hundred miles of Kentucky rock asphalt roads are being built in Ohio, among them being a long section of the famous National Road near Columbus, O. Rock asphalt from Kentucky is being used for heavy traffic roads and city streets in fourteen states. The United States Bureau of Roads classes it with the very highest types of road material.

Ford May Extend Railroad Into Kentucky

Ashland, Ky., Aug. 17—Henry Ford has made two visits to Ashland, incognito, to make inspections of property along the river front and piers erected several years ago for a bridge between this city and Ironton, O. He also spent some time in Ironton, inspecting the terminal of his railroad, the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton, and visited locks and dams along the Big Sandy river. The visits have given rise to the report that the auto magnate is considering building a railroad tunnel under the Ohio river and extending his railroad into the Big Sandy coal field of Kentucky. He is said to have been advised that in the long run a tunnel would be more economical than a bridge.

BOOTLEGGERS BOMB AND BURN HOME

(From Stanford Journal)

From what the Interior Journal can gather an effort was made to kill Mr. Fred J. Conn and his wife Friday night when his store between Ottenheim and Crab Orchard burned. About an hour after the fire a terrific explosion occurred and it was found that a bomb, which had been placed under the room Mr. and Mrs. Conn had formerly occupied, had exploded. Had it gone off at the desired hour Mr. and Mrs. Conn might have been blown to atoms. On the night before the fire Mr. Conn heard a noise about his store at a late hour and he went out to investigate. He saw no one, but is confident that an effort was made that night to place the bomb and set the building on fire. He suspects parties and will spare neither means nor effort in bringing them to justice, if guilty. A good deal of bootlegging has been going on in the section Mr. Conn lived in and being a law-abiding, good citizen, the bootleggers naturally had little use for him. He has been outspoken in his denunciation of bootlegging and other outlawry, and it is more than likely that it was the intention of the guilty parties to send him and his good wife where they would forever be out of the way. Mr. and Mrs. Conn got out of the burning building in time to save only a few things. Mrs. Conn, in her excitement, failed to get any of her clothes and had to borrow a dress and a pair of shoes from a neighbor until she could replenish her supply. The loss, Mr. Conn thinks, is fully $8,000, partly covered by insurance. He had policy of $4,400 and another for $1,000.

Parrot Saved Friend From Going to Jail

When Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson of Chicago went away for a brief vacation, Mrs. Johnson asked Edward Peterson, her brother, to go to the flat and water and feed the canaries and parrot. Peterson lost the key and was climbing in the window when neighbors called the police. The desk sergeant laughed at his explanation, but the boy insisted that if the sergeant would accompany him to the flat he would prove he was all right. So they went back. "Hello, Polly," said Peterson. "Hello, Ed," replied the bird. "How's the boy? Whatcha got on yer hip?" The sergeant allowed Peterson his liberty.

HOPE TO COME BACK

Deported Radicals Are Fleeing
From Soviet Rule.

Reported to Be Greatly Disappointed at What They Found in the
"Promised Land."

Riga, Latvia.—Little groups of Russian-Americans, who were deported or volunteered to go from America to soviet Russia, are trickling back across the Latvian frontier from the land of the Bolsheviks very frequently these days. All hope to get back to the United States.

These emigrants, according to American consular officials, who hear their stories and have to tell them there is not much chance for them to get back, are greatly disappointed with what they found in the "promised land."

They tell of starvation and long rides in trains so packed with people that there is scarcely room to breathe. Besides those who have succeeded in getting to Latvia, there are many others who have written friends in Riga asking for money from America.

The Moscow correspondent of the Riga Rundschau writes as follows about the Russian-Americans inside the country:

"The numbers of Russian communists expelled from America, who with wry faces are selling their last goods and chattels on the Moscow market places, are increasing every day.

"The soviet government is doing its utmost to keep these people above water by giving them even whole factories to run and manage. But as these factories are very much run down, even American spirit and energy is not sufficiently strong to set them in operation.

"A little better off are those of the immigrants who have managed to take with them from America their tools or goods produced by their trade. Such people are doing a big business and can afford to live well. Thus, one party of emigrants has succeeded in installing a small sewing factory containing about 300 sewing machines.

"Formerly the soviet government simply would have confiscated this lucrative enterprise, but at present the government is a little wary, the more so as in this case they have to do with immigrants whom they make a point of treating with the greatest possible courtesy and consideration.

"Quite recently there arrived a party of Americans whose specialty is the construction of small dwelling houses. They are welcomed and aided by the soviet government."

FARMER'S WIFE HAD SUFFERED 20 YEARS

Shepherdsville Man Says Wife Only Ate Enough to Keep Alive —Now Picture of Health

"I wouldn't take the best blue grass farm in Kentucky for the good Tanlac did my wife," said W. T. Walker, a well-to-do farmer, living at Shepherdsville, Ky., R. F. D. No. 2.

"My wife had stomach trouble for twenty years and I have never known anybody to suffer like she did from indigestion. She ate only enough to keep alive and was growing weaker and thinner all the time. She had no strength and was so nervous and restless she could hardly sleep at all.

"I had no idea that Tanlac could help her like it has done. Her stomach is in fine condition now and she eats pork and anything else without having the slightest trace of indigestion. She used to have dizzy spells a great deal, but these are all gone and her nerves have quieted down until she can sleep like a child at night. She has even stopped the use of laxatives which she had been in the habit of taking for years. She looks ten years younger, now, and indeed, she is the very picture of health."

Tanlac is sold in Richmond by Stockton and Son and good druggists.

Youth Born Under Unlucky Star Has Life Of Trouble

Twice Daniel Craig was the victim of circumstantial evidence. On the first occasion he was held guilty of stealing examination papers in college and expelled. The second occasion was far more serious, for he was accused and convicted of murder and sentenced to serve twelve years in state's prison, where he became No. 777. Escaping, he brought about the release of more than a hundred prisoners, including five hardened and dangerous criminals, whom he had not intended to turn loose. Inspired by his love for a brave and beautiful young woman, he resolved to devote his life to recapturing the five outlaws.

The story of Daniel Craig's adventures, in prison and out, is told in "Three Sevens" by Perley Moore Sheehan, and will be seen at local theatres Thursday. Antonio Moreno, the daring and dashing young star, plays the leading role.

Stories of Great Scouts

"BUFFALO CHIP" JIM WANTED TO BE LIKE BUFFALO BILL

Plain Jim White was his name, but along the whole western frontier he was known as "Buffalo Chip" Jim, a name which he carried to his grave. He had been a boyhood friend of Buffalo Bill, and when Cody became an Indian scout, White also took up that occupation. For years he was Buffalo Bill's faithful follower—half servant, half partner.

Two stories of how he got his name are told. One is this: General Sheridan had arrived at Fort Wallace, Kan., and was seeking Buffalo Bill to guide him on a buffalo hunt. White appeared and told the general that Cody was away.

"But when Mr. Cody is away, I'm Buffalo Bill," declared White. "The h—l you are!" said "Little Phil" with contempt. "Buffalo chips you mean!" And the general stamped away angrily.

According to the other version of White's christening, one night at Fort Laramie he claimed the right to be known by some other name than simple Jim White, something descriptive of his close friendship for Buffalo Bill. "All right," said Major Morton of the Ninth infantry, "We'll call you 'Buffalo Chips'!"

White was with the Fifth cavalry when it attacked Chief American Horse's camp at Slim Buttes, S. D., in the autumn of 1876. After the defeat of the Indians, the soldiers began hunting down little parties of Sioux hidden in the gulches and ravines near the edge of a cliff. He had raised himself to his feet and was ready to fire at a warrior down in the ravine when a shot rang out.

White sprang in the air, clutching his hands to his breast and with the startled cry of "Oh, my God, boys, they've got me!" he plunged forward down the slope, shot through the heart.

"A simpler-minded, gentler frontiersman never lived. He was modest and courteous itself, and he had three unusual traits for men of his class—he never drank; I never heard him swear, and no man ever heard him lie," writes Gen. Charles King who knew him well and who saw him die that cold September morning at Slim Buttes.

THE DEATH CELLS AT EDDYVILLE PAN

(By Associated Press)

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 16—Death cells in the state prison at Eddyville, where all persons condemned to death for crimes other than attacks on women are put to death, have been occupied only 30 days in nearly a year and a half. The last man to occupy one of the cells was Lee Ellison, Madisonville negro, was taken to the prison on January 1, and on the morning of January 31, was electrocuted for the murder of Sheriff Hunter of Hopkins county.

Prior to the execution of Ellison, Will Lockett, Lexington negro, whose assault and murder of a little girl in Fayette county caused the fatal riots in Lexington in February, 1920, was the last person to occupy one of these cells. He was electrocuted in March, 1920.

Charles Douthitt is the only person living who occupied one of the death cells within the last three years. Douthitt was in the death house 32 months but his sentence was commuted by Gov. Morrow to life imprisonment. Douthitt at present is in solitary confinement at Eddyville as a result of an attempt to burn a harness factory in the prison. He also faces the possibility of occupying the death cell again as the Kentucky law provides that a convict who attempts to burn a prison building shall be punished by death or solitary confinement for life if he is convicted.

Walter P. Stamp, of Louisville, and Ferdinand Sayre, of Lexington, are the two men in the state now under sentence of death for murder. Stamp was convicted of the murder of W. Smith Russell in Louisville and is now in the Jefferson county jail, and Sayre was convicted of the murder of James McHatten, a Lexington grocer, and is in the Fayette county jail.

There is a third man under sentence of death in the state but he will be executed at Lexington if the Court of Appeals upholds the sentence of the court and the governor does not exercise his power of clemency. This man is Louis Kokas, a restaurant keeper who was found guilty of criminally assaulting a 12-year-old girl. He was sentenced under the new law which makes the death penalty for such crimes hanging in the county where the crime was committed.

Treating Seed Potatoes Reduces Amount of Scab

Treating potato seed with corrosive sublimate decreased the per cent of potato scab 60 to 85 per cent on early spuds grown by farmers who cooperated with the extension division of the College of Agriculture and county farm agents in demonstrating the benefits of seed treatment, according to J. S. Gardner, extension specialist in vegetable gardening, under whose direction the tests were made. The higher percentage of decrease was obtained on soil where potatoes had not been grown for several years and was relatively free from scab. The scab treatment cost about five cents a bushel and is always good insurance against the pest that was responsible for a reduction in the market value of much of the first crop of potatoes in Kentucky this year, Mr. Gardner said. The remainder of the reduction was due to poor growing weather this spring which cut down the disease resistance of the first crop.

When the land is shabby seed treatment alone will not guarantee a clean crop, treatment of the soil being necessary in this case. A number of Jefferson county farmers are conducting demonstrations in cooperation with the College at the present time on a total of six acres to determine the ability of sulphur in cleaning the soil. From 300 to 600 pounds of this material is being used on each acre. The treatment which costs about eight dollars an acre has been successfully used by potato growers in the east and gives promise of being valuable for Kentucky farmers.

SWEET CLOVER FOR MADISON COUNTY

County Agent Spence At Berea,
Gives Some Interesting Views
On the Subject

(By R. L. Spence)
Some day in the near future Madison county will be noted for dairying, bee raising and sweet clover.

Six years ago men cursed sweet clover in Madison county and said nothing would eat it. Today they praise sweet clover and stock eats it. It's only a matter of time until all of our farmers of Madison county will realize the value of sweet clover as a hay crop, a soil crop and the finest grazing crop. Blue grass is fine grazing but the hot sun comes along in July, July and August and destroys the tender growth to some extent. Sweet clover grows on—Why? Because it has a deep root and goes down for moisture while blue grass doesn't go so deep.

Sweet clover will fatten cattle, hogs, sheep, horses and mules. It will produce more eggs. By doing these things it will bring more money to our farmers, and money is what we want. It takes money to run any business. Farming is the biggest business in our county and should be looked upon as such.

There are thousands of acres of land in Madison county that are not producing—only covered with a wild coat of grass here and there and cut to pieces by ditches—thousands of acres, "bald knobs," which are considered worthless and thrown out to the commons; thousands of acres of steep hill sides washing away from year to year; thousands of acres of poor and thin covered with castles and monuments built by the crawfish. All of this land is valuable and can be made to produce and bring forth plenty.

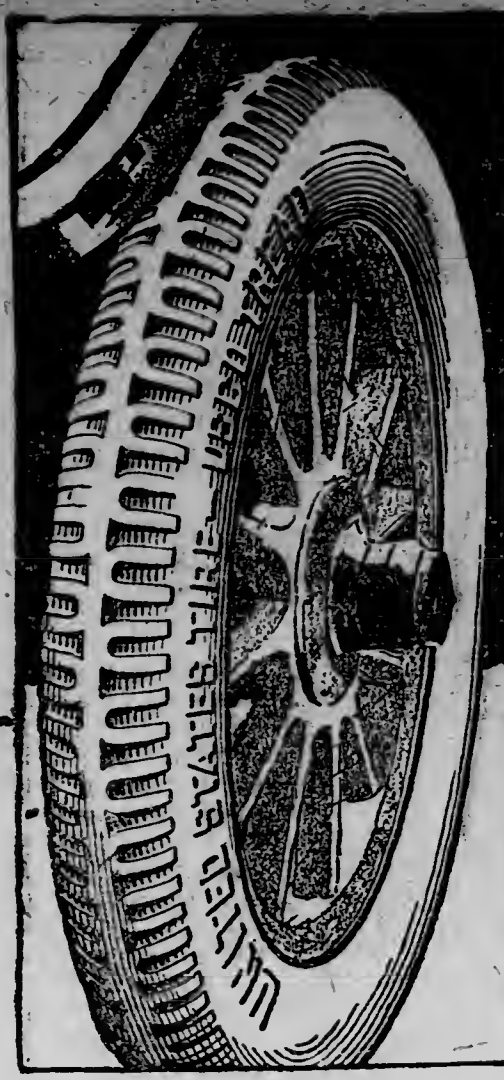

Sweet clover will do the work. On the steep rough "bald knobs" and where there is lime in the soil sweet clover will grow in abundance. On the crawfish land ground limestone should be applied at the rate of 2 tons per acre and seeded to sweet clover. The day is coming when we will need more and better soil.

Madison county is blessed with fine productive land and yet she has some very poor non-productive land. This firm rich land should be cared for by keeping it rich and the poor land should be made better. It can be done and I believe it is up to us to do it. There are thousands, yea millions possibly to follow us in Madison county and get their support from the soil. Not only get their support but must feed the people of Richmond, Berea, and other small towns within the county. Yes, we must have plenty to spare if money is to be made in the county as it has been done in the past.

As the soil, so will the county be. Then if we wish to be rich we must take care of our soil. Rotation of crops, more and better live stock and cover crops for the winter will make the poor land better and maintain our present soil fertility. Rotation of crops to be worked out to suit the farm. Sweet clover to be the rotation. More and better live stock can be secured by getting better sires—bulls, bucks, boars, stallions, jacks and roosters and giving them plenty of sweet clover to graze upon and to eat during the winter. Cover crops for the winter should be on every farm when possible. The cover crop holds the fertility of soil from being washed away during the winter rains. It also gives pasture early and late. It furnishes a green manure crop to turn under to make more fumus. Sweet clover is one of the best crops; there are others but don't forget sweet clover.

John L. Green, Berea, R. D. 1, has 50 acres in sweet clover. He cut 8 acres for seed, is grazing 30 and has 12 which was seeded last spring and will soon be grazing. Since the clover has been high enough to graze in the early spring, he has had from 15 to 25 cattle on the 30 acres all the time up until August 1. In spite of all the cattle the clover grew so fast that in many places the cattle can

U. S. RED & GREY TUBES

From the makers of U.S. Royal Cords to the users of Fabric Tires

"Giving to the fabric tire user fresh, live tires. Being made now. Being shipped now."

In all of modern merchandising the biggest conundrum is the fabric tire situation.

Around 70% of all car owners use fabric tires.

Their instinct for quality is as strong and insistent as any one else's.

Why, then, are they offered such hodge-podge stocks of "discount tires," "odd lots," "seconds," "retreads" and other so-called bargains of uncertain origin?

Sooner or later the public always seeks out quality. As a matter of self-protection—if for no other reason. The out-and-out opinion in favor of U. S. Fabric Tires has spread more this year than it ever did.

People have gotten very close to the U. S. policy. Felt it. Benefited by it. And passed the word along.

It's a policy settled to one standard for all U. S. Tires. Whether fabrics or cords. Small sizes or large.

Giving to the fabric tire user fresh, live tires. Being made now. Being shipped now.

All the original U. S. vitality and service comes through when you buy a U. S. Fabric Tire.

"Usco," "Chain," "Nobby." Three different treads.

Built by the same brains, the same policy, the same quality ideals that have made U. S. Royal Cords the standard measure of tire worth.

Mr. Green has corn in a field this year where he has been growing sweet clover for four years. The reason he had it in sweet clover is because nothing else would grow there. Corn quit four years ago. This year the crop promises 40 to 50 bushels per acre or more.

Mr. Green will sow 20 acres more this coming year. He says: "Why not, when it's the best crop on the farm? I am going to make my poor hills rich; why not do it—it's mine?" Mr. Green is right. Sweet clover saved Penitton county and made it famous for dairy cattle and honey.

Goodman's $7,500 Set Aside

At Covington, Circuit Judge M. L. Harbeson granted a motion for the defendant setting aside a verdict of $7,500 damages which had been awarded to B. F. Goodman, of Covington, former Blue Grass league baseball player and known here, against the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company on the ground that the award was excessive and that there was an error in instructing the jury. Goodman sued for $12,000, alleging he was injured permanently when he was employed as a brakeman for the company. He contended his employers had supplied him with a defective lantern the flame of which was extinguished when he was making a run the night he was injured.

SWEET CLOVER FOR MADISON COUNTY

County Agent Spence At Berea, Gives Some Interesting Views On the Subject

(By R. L. Spence)

Some day in the near future Madison county will be noted for dairying, bee raising and sweet clover.

Six years ago men cursed sweet clover in Madison county and said nothing would eat it. Today they praise sweet clover and stock eats it. It's only a matter of time until all of our farmers of Madison county will realize the value of sweet clover as a hay crop, a soil crop and the finest grazing crop. Blue grass is fine grazing but the hot sun comes along in July, July and August and destroys the tender growth to some extent. Sweet clover grows on—Why? Because it has a deep root and goes down for moisture while blue grass doesn't go so deep.

Sweet clover will fatten cattle, hogs, sheep, horses and mules. It will produce more eggs. By doing these things it will bring more money to our farmers, and money is what we want. It takes money to run any business. Farming is the biggest business in our county and should be looked upon as such.

There are thousands of acres of land in Madison county that are not producing—only covered with a wild coat of grass here and there and cut to pieces by ditches—thousands of acres, "bald knobs," which are considered worthless and thrown out to the commons; thousands of acres of steep hill sides washing away from year to year; thousands of acres of poor and thin covered with castles and monuments built by the crawfish. All of this land is valuable and can be made to produce and bring forth plenty. Sweet clover will do the work. On the steep rough "bald knobs" and where there is lime in the soil sweet clover will grow in abundance. On the crawfish land ground limestone should be applied at the rate of 2 tons per acre and seeded to sweet clover.

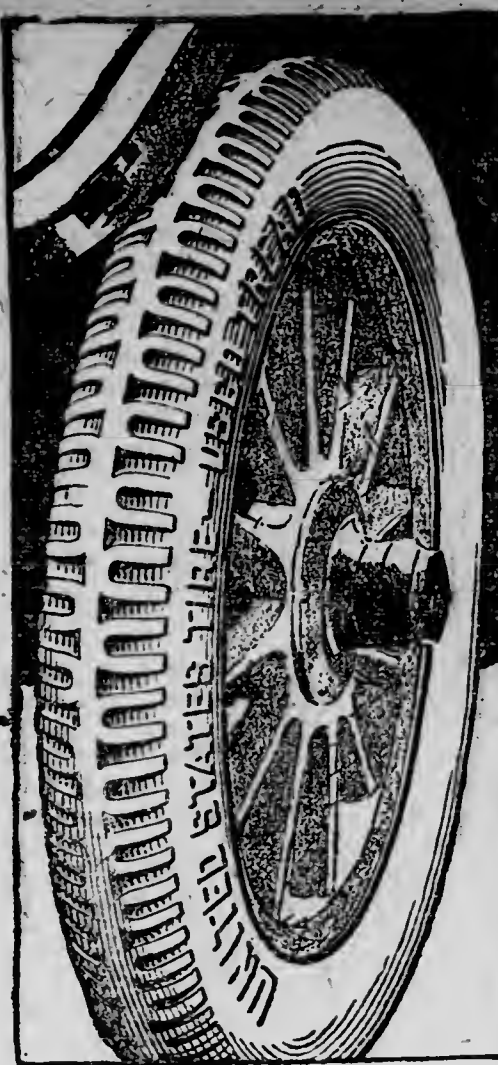

The day is coming when we will need more and better soil. Madison county is blessed with fine productive land and yet she has some very poor non-productive land. This firm rich land should be cared for by keeping it rich and the poor land should be made better. It can be done and I believe it is up to us to do it. There are thousands, yea millions possibly to follow us in Madison county and get their support from the soil. Not only get their support but must feed the people of Richmond, Berea, and other small towns within the county. Yes, we must have plenty to spare if money is to be made in the county as it has been done in the past.

As the soil, so will the county be. Then if we wish to be rich we must take care of our soil. Rotation of crops, more and better live stock and cover crops for the winter will make the poor land better and maintain our present soil fertility. Rotation of crops to be worked out to suit the farm. Sweet clover to be the rotation. More and better live stock can be secured by getting better sires—bulls, bucks, boars, stallions, jacks and roosters, and giving them plenty of sweet clover to graze upon and to eat during the winter. Cover crops for the winter should be on every farm when possible. The cover crop holds the fertility of soil from being washed away during the winter rains. It also gives pasture early and late. It furnishes a green manure crop to turn under to make more humus. Sweet clover is one of the best crops; there are others but don't forget sweet clover.

John L. Green, Berea, R. D. 1, has 50 acres in sweet clover. He cut 8 acres for seed, is grazing 30 and has 12 which was seeded last spring and will soon be grazing. Since the clover has been high enough to graze in the early spring, he has had from 15 to 25 cattle on the 30 acres all the time up until August 1. In spite of all the cattle the clover grew so fast that in many places the cattle can

IS HERMIT 33 YEARS

Man Visits City for First Time and Sees First Woman.

Swift Change Comes and He Immediately Sheds His Whiskers and Buys Store Clothes.

Omaha.—Tracy Gillis, older than Brigham Young when he took his third wife, has just let his eyes first see a woman. He also has had his first remembered view of a railroad train, a street car, a daily newspaper and a fiction magazine.

Upon seeing a woman for the first time, Gillis visited a barber shop and had his long hair cut and his face shaved.

Gillis is thirty-three years old. He was born in Chicago. His mother was an actress and his father a disciple of Moody and Sankey. But for a third of a century father and son, their Bible open to the chapter which tells of John the Baptist dwelling in the wilderness, have lived alone on a western Nebraska tract 40 miles from railroad, with no stranger stopping within its fence posts.

George Willis, the father, died recently, two years short of the fourscore and ten which he believed that had been promised to him. Tracy, the son, buried the body on the ranch and went on with his farm work. Today he came to Omaha on his pioneer journey with a load of cattle.

According to the young man's tale, the older Gillis trafficked, with his neighboring farmers only, on their property and never on his own, for fear his son's ears should pick up hints of civilization. The father fled to the West with his son to save him from the dancing, singing actresses in Chicago's old Haymarket theater.

"A devil lurks on every city street corner, father taught me," Tracy Gillis said today. "He told me the sad story of my mother and warned me to avoid all sinful men."

With the money from the sale of his cattle Gillis changed his home made garments for a suit of store clothes. He also bought a safety razor, a tube of tooth paste and two silk neckties. He is willing to admit that one glimpse of the city has demoralized him. In his plans for the future, which include continued residence on his secluded farm, he mentions a wife and a course in agriculture.

MILLIONS SPENT IN VIENNA

Money So Plentiful in Austria Americans Are Outbid for Objects d'Art.

Vienna, Austria.—The astounding amount of ready money circulating in Austria was illustrated by the recently concluded sale of the rare furnishings of Klessheim palace, one of the residences of the Archduke Ludwig Victor. It netted many million crowns and the newspapers say the purchasers were virtually all newly rich Viennese.

Many professional collectors and buyers from France, Great Britain and the United States came here for the sale but declared they could not compete with native bidders, who ran prices up into millions as nonchalantly as if bidding in hundreds. Dollars, pounds and francs, they said, were a part of the running. Several rare Gobelin brought from 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 crowns each.

The Vienna Derby just run was another illustration of the money plenty. About 30,000 persons attended, and the receipts of the betting machines alone was 4,500,000 crowns.

BLAZING CROW FIRES FIELD

Bird Killed by a Live Wire Falls Into Hay Causing Loss of Several Hundred Dollars.

Rochester, N. Y.—A crow alighted on a heavily charged electric wire of the Niagara Power company and was instantly killed, falling a blazing mass into a field of mown hay belonging to Hobart Stahl, near Spencerport, eight miles from here.

The field caught fire, causing a loss of several hundred dollars, and for a time threatened adjoining wheat fields whose mown crops are estimated to be worth several thousands.

The Spencerport Chemical company made the three-mile run to the Stahl place and prevented further damage.

Meteor Falls in Tennessee.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—A meteor weighing between 500 and 600 pounds fell near here. The meteor made a swishing noise that was heard several blocks. It buried itself in the ground.

Aged Women Voters Posted; Riot Followed

It was only 90 in the shade when the assessors of North Brookfield, Mass., posted the list of 900 female voters in the town, but it was estimated to be 120 in the assessors' office next day when it became known each name was followed by the age of the voter. Not satisfied with storming the assessor's office, many of the women attacked the lists with erasers, and some of the lists were torn off during the rioting. The list was accepted as authority for settling many long-standing arguments as to age.

BUREAU SAYS FARMS ASSESSED TOO HIGH

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 17.—The Legislative Committee of the Kentucky Association of Farm Bureau, which will maintain an agent here during the 1922 session of the General Assembly, thus far has not advocated changes in the present tax law, but it is vehemently urging strict and equitable enforcement of the law. A tentative program was outlined recently by the Legislative Committee at a meeting in the office of the president, Geoffrey Morgan, in Louisville.

Members of the bureau feel real estate continues to be the conspicuous object of taxation, and if the State Tax Commission lacks the equipment to ascertain the value of mining property and to equalize farm land the commission probably will have the support of the bureau in obtaining it.

The only feeling against the present law appears to be that some members think, since the ascending curve of land values from 1917 to 1921 corresponded to the increase in assessment, the downward drop of values would be accompanied by a corresponding decrease in assessments.

It is contended by the commission that it has made adequate allowance for inflation of prices and the increase in assessments from year to year was not based on war prices, but on the fact that the old assessment averaged only 60 per cent of the cash value of property, and the commission was obliged to raise it to 100 per cent.

YOUNG MINER WINS $75,000 FOR PATENT

Whitesburg, Ky., Aug. 17.—Mike Dandy, an electrician, of Jenkins, this county, an employee of the Consolidation Coal Company, recently accepted from the Industrial Steel Corporation of New York, an offer to pay him $75,000 for a patent of his perfected some time ago. The new invention is a sand box for motors. Dandy will receive this check for $75,000 within a few days.

Although this will make him comparatively rich, he will continue to remain in the employ of the Consolidation Coal Company. He has other inventions under way.

Not long ago Dandy invented an electric alarm clock. Through an attachment a light will flash automatically during the night in order to tell the time. He has applied for a patent on this. He is only 23 years old.

Highway Commission Not to

Help on Frankfort Bridge

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 17.—The State Highway Commission is not going to help Frankfort and Franklin county build a bridge across the Kentucky river in this city, according to State Highway Engineer, J. S. Boggs, who declared that the commission had refused to give financial aid on the ground that states aid is a question for the 1922 General Assembly. The commission was asked for state aid in building the bridge as it is a connecting link in the state highways.

The bridge is in bad shape and all of the extra weight including the side walks, which are not in use now, is being removed from it. While the side rails were being removed today the carpenters felt the bridge lower itself and a slight panic followed, many believing that the bridge had collapsed. Engineers who have inspected the bridge declare the middle of it is safe.
